

State tax labyrinth awaits same-sex couples

Uneven recognition of same-sex marriage will make for a complicated tax year

Jan 16, 2014 @ 12:38 pm

By Darla Mercado

9 Shares

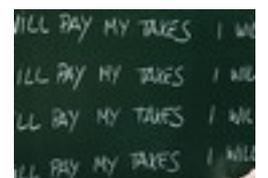

An intimidating patchwork of state laws awaits financial advisers and accountants who are preparing their same-sex married clients for the impending tax season.

RELATED READS

Help clients manage tax payments during the Last year's Supreme Court decision in United States v. Windsor signified the federal government's recognition of same-sex marriages. One of the major benefits of the outcome is the fact that married gay couples can file federal returns jointly, provided they got hitched in a state that recognizes the marriage.

“The tax code benefits married couples in many ways: the pooling of income, greater deductions and assigning dependents to both partners rather than one,” said Joseph Henchman, vice president of legal and state projects at the Tax Foundation. “For those who live in states that recognize it, married couples can file jointly at the federal and state level, so there's less paperwork for them and hopefully some financial advantages.”

CHANGE THE CONVERSATION.
LEARN MORE >

COMMONWEALTH
financial network

commonwealth.com

versus previous seasons, and tax professionals will need to determine how differences in state law and recognition of marriage will affect their

Still, there's a daunting task ahead of advisers: This year's tax rules will be entirely different for this filing season

year

The long-term effect of lifestyle-friendly advisory practices

Advisory firms growing with tech, but not without troubles and false starts

Top reasons for independent advisers to consider a merger instead of an acquisition

BLOG

5 tips for winning debates with your clients

BLOG

clients. For those with clients in states that don't recognize same-sex marriage, there still will be plenty of paperwork.

A recent paper from the Tax Foundation reveals that there are 22 states that don't recognize same-sex marriage while requiring taxpayers to reference their federal return when they file for state income taxes.

Indeed, Arizona, Kansas, North Dakota, Ohio and Wisconsin tell same-sex couples to split their income on two single returns based on a state-provided schedule, according to the Tax Foundation.

In Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, same-sex taxpayers will need to complete “dummy” federal single tax returns and use that information to calculate their state tax liability. Dummy federal returns are not sent to the federal government, but only used for state-level tax calculations.

In Colorado, Missouri and Oregon, same-sex taxpayers can file jointly. Meanwhile, Alabama tells same-sex filers to divide their income according to a ratio. Finally, Montana will advise gay couples not to file jointly, but the state does not verify taxpayers' marital status, according to the Tax Foundation.

SPONSORED FINANCIAL NEWS

Advisers who work with same-sex couples — particularly those who live in states that don't recognize gay marriages — are grappling with a litany of tax issues as April draws nearer. There's the matter of tracking exactly how states view the marriages in the context of income tax laws, but also whether it makes sense to amend past federal returns.

Scott E. Squillace, founder of Squillace & Associates PC, noted that he has spent many hours taking stock of his gay clients' tax situations.

“The IRS has taken the position that it will allow people to amend their income, estate and gift tax returns for the last three years, so you better run the numbers and see if you're in a better or worse position if you're married to file the amendment [to your past returns],” he said.

Clients need to figure out whether filing an amendment as a married couple would put them in a higher bracket and whether they may be due for refunds or face higher liabilities in the form of the marriage penalty, Mr. Squillace added.

What do you think?

Just Released: "5 Stocks Set to Double"

Zacks

Motley Fool issues buy alert on this "Millionaire-Maker" stock

The Motley Fool

Use Data To Sell Your Home For More

HomeLight

2 Credit Cards Are Shaking-Up The Entire Credit Card Industry

alanomi

MOST POPULAR

1

DOL fiduciary rule promotes a 'business form of skydiving'

2

Finra suspends ex-LPL rep over unsuitable short-term trading of unit investment trusts

Financial advisers

Social media success for financial advisors

Social media can be an effective tool to help financial advisors reach their target audiences and boost their businesses. And, it doesn't have to be an overwhelming process. This paper offers five tactics advisors can implement today to create a simple, yet effective social media program for their business.

flock to Vanguard, bringing more than $1 trillion on board

4

Prudential Investments joins the fee-cut bandwagon

5

Knut Rostad: Trump adviser Anthony Scaramucci should apologize for DOL fiduciary rule remarks

LATEST FROM INVESTMENTNEWS

Broker-dealers

Investments

Insurance

Regulation

Retirement

Technology

Your Practice

More Topics

SEC bars adviser for failing to disclose conflicts of interests in commodities fund

Eaton Vance to buy Calvert Investments

Finra suspends ex-LPL rep over unsuitable short-term trading of unit investment trusts

Finra shouldn't hype 'broken' BrokerCheck to investors: PIABA

MUST WATCH

3 steps to becoming a better CEO

Featured Video

Comments

Community

 Login ▾

 Recommend

 Share

Sort by Best ▾

Start the discussion...

Be the first to comment.

 Subscribe

 Add Disqus to your site Add Disqus Add

DISQUS Privacy

MBSD ETF FlexShares Disciplined Duration MBS Index Fund

Sponsored by Northern Trust -
FlexShares

Left brain, meet right brain.

CONTENT STRATEGIC STUDIO

Subscribe to Print

Newsletter Sign-up

Register

NOW IN PRINT

This week's issue

To download the full

GET DAILY NEWS & INTEL

THE DAILY

The pulse of the financial advisory industry.

CONNECT WITH US

Register to access our archive of leading investment information and data contents of this week's issue, click here.

Past Issues

October 10, 2016

October 3, 2016

September 26,

2016

SUBSCRIBE TO PRINT

Your E-mail

Sign up

Breaking news and in-depth coverage of essential topics delivered straight to your inbox.

VIEW ALL NEWSLETTERS

Follow @newsfromIN

Follow @eventsfromIN

Follow @statsfromIN

About

Contact

Staff

Help Center

Editorial Calendar

Media Kit

Reprints

Content Strategy Studio

Copyright © 2016 Crain Communications Inc. Use of editorial content without permission is strictly prohibited. Privacy Policy and Terms & Conditions are applicable to you. All rights reserved.